SENIOR PROPHECY

We, the official prophets of the famous (or infamous) class of "41", having spent a part of one evening and more than twelve class periods in an attempt to pierce the hazy curtain of the future by gazing into our crystal ball (a glass paper weight) do hereby record our discoveries.

But first, for our own protection, we wish to state that any similarity between our predictions and the future of any of our classmates is purely coincidental.

For Max Amerman we see a Dude Ranch open to any M. H. S. alumni who makes Hollywood.

Mary Baich will be writing scenarios for M. G. M.

Sidney Bowman will be president of the National School and Office Janitor's Union.

Barbara Burnham's future is hazy, but through the mist we discern a symphony orchestra, and on the podium conducting, none other than our own Barbara.

The Clark Farms and Dairy Co. under our classmate Bruce will control all of Ohio's dairy products.

Lovina Hunter, who is in partnership with her brother, will furnish the sand and gravel for the concrete used in the "Champeen" Creek Suspension Bridge which will be built by those nationally known construction engineers, Dick Smith and Bob Effinger.

We believe that Gertrude Deiss and Catherine Wolfe will be writing mystery novels; their latest: "The Cat with Three Paws".

Jo Deibel will be the first woman airline pilot flying between Albuquerque and Cleveland while we see Ralph Herrington running the famous "Gas and Go" Nationwide Service Stations.

Bud Fisher, famous zoologist, will be on the trail of a certain species of Gurks, said to be found in Darkest Africa.

Kenneth Sherman will be helping Howard Oberholtzer on his nation-wide Farm Project.

The crystal ball shows Joe Henninger as Traffic Manager of the new Kroger's Grocery Store.

Dene Hammerschmidt will be known as the famous surgeon who successfully completed that renowned operation, the removal of horns from the Horned Toad.

Mary Ziegler and George Welch will be featured as singers with Sponseller's Syncopated Swingsters, an up and coming young band.

For Bob Shane we see a future in the prize fighting ring. Never would have believed it, but there it is! Right in the crystal ball!

Bill Rapp and Elwood Pincombe, famous race drivers will win the Indianapolis Speed Classic in "61". Their mechanic, Art Warren, has devised a new type of super-fuel.

Mary Virginia Schultz and Jean Higgins will be running the Higgins-Schultz Secretarial School with exceptional executive ability.

The Raymont School of Dancing will be a tremendous success.

SENIOR PROPHECY (Continued)

We see Howard Ward occupying a professorship in the study of heiroglyphics at the Judkins-Lanning College for Advanced Study of Dead Languages. Alice Satink will also be a professor there. She's studying the Hosseta Block which was discovered in Egypt in the tomb of Nebuchadnezzar by those famous explorers, Martha Mellert and Charlotte Grimes.

Warner Folk will be bartender at Folk's Fizz, a string of milk bars stretching across the country.

Anna Rau will find fame as a torch singer, famous for "My Heart Belongs to Reginald O. Throck-Morton."

Bud Riegger we see as publicity agent for Jeppy Zibah (a sister of Brenda and Cobina).

We see Ruth Ferguson and Rosemary Hepner as secretaries for the two newly elected women congressmen, Nancy Lou Elliott and Dot Phillips.

Lloyd Huffman plays a swing guitar in Genc Autry's latest hit.

Chet Lewis will be famous for an attempt to fly to the moon by rocket ship. Mind you, we said 'attempt.'

Ann Leister will be the first woman to reach the State Supreme Court (on the side of the law).

The Schneiders, Henry and Martin, will be stars with the Medina Rangers Hockey Team.

Helen Perrin and Ruth Plants have learned, as the magic ball shows us, that all angles are not right. They will be employed by the Ajax Law Offices Inc.

Helen Szanislo and her cousin Joann will be taking nurses' training at Ye Broken Bone Sanatorium which will be run by an efficient staff under the supervision of our classmate Etta West.

Helen Szekeres will open a bake shop operated by Evelyn Rickard who has invented a new type of yeast-free bread.

Loren Parker will conduct a lecture tour; his subject: "Women".

George Promey will be connected with Glenn Jennrich on the Okce- Doakie Soap Chip hour. They will attempt to bring back the true hillbilly yodel.

Jean Harley, the noted botanist, we see discovering the only five-petaled, bearded lily. She thanks her able aids, Sylvia Strouse and Alberta Turek, for their splendid assistance during the eight year search.

Gladys Medley will be found any day on the campus at Fisher University as head of the Commercial Department.

The Music by Correspondence Course offered by Olive Ann Tooker will be found very useful in elementary piano playing.

Last, but not least, will be one of our class surprises. Mary Purguly will head the Fashion Shop of a large New York department store.

The vision fades, the crystal ball is only a paper-weight again, and, as to the future; well —, your guess is as good as ours.

THE CLASS OF 1941

Having been rudely awakened in #221 study hall by one of the faculty, we rise feebly to our pedal extremities and proclaim to the world at large this solemn and purposeless presentation of gifts, insults, and useless senior habits.

First and foremost, we graciously give to those Jitterbug Juniors, the honor of being called "Seniors" and the right to continue to lead M. H. S. in a traditonally hilarious fashion.

To those silly sophomores we very gladly give the right to struggle with the 1942 Medinian.

To the 'flirty' freshmen we will the dawn of a little more respect and a great deal less shoving around the halls, although some of them have already taken these privileges in hand.

And now for individual bequests:

Bruce Clark leaves his sugar sweet compliments and scarlet jacket to Loren Kaden if used in conquest of out of town "gals."

Stella Holcomb bequeaths her love of dancing to Lawrence Kulp.

Lovina Hunter wills her horror of excess calories to Don Todd.

Howard Oberholtzer gives the privilege of getting to school in the middle of the first period to Jake Burris.

George Promey bequeaths his soft quiet voice to Gloria Houston.

Ann Rau gives her giggle to Mr. Claggett to be used for laughing at his own jokes.

Bud Riegger, in order that band hats may no longer be lost at public dances, gives one roll of pink ribbon to Mr. Thompson for mooring purposes.

Kenneth Sherman wills his quiet ways to Al King.

Dick Smith bequeaths his jitter-bugging ability to Edward Buckley.

Lillian Sperber grants the use of her graceful carriage and posture to future drum majorettes.

Catherine Wolfe wills her gaudy jacket to color blind underclassmen.

Max Amerman just plain gives away his shyness of women.

Sidney Bowman wills his ability to get through high school, principally by working for Jack, to Jim Long.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Barbara Burnham wills her 8:30 curfew to Duke Edwards in order that his text books may get more attention.

Jo Deibel wills her ability to see the boy friend quite often and still get straight A's to Lois Kohn.

Bob Effinger bestows his ability to wangle a place on all decoration committees to Elizabeth Bailey.

Naney Elliott gives her interest in Ohio State to Neil Gowe, for use next year.

Ruth Ferguson wills her ability to sling eatable "hash" to Joyec Evans.

Warner Folk gives to Ted Elliott several inches of height.

Neil Gowe bestows upon Don Culler the enjoyment of walking to and from school with the 'one and only'.

Charlotte Grimes graciously leaves her seat in #221, which she now occupies for three straight study halls, to her brother Paul, who certainly could use the studying.

Jean Harley wills her love of older escorts to Helen Felton.

Joe Henniger leaves his interest in baseball to Ike Kaszian.

Rosemary Hepner bequeaths her poetry writing ability to Ethel Nosker.

Ralph Herrington wills his cooking ability to Jane Kefc.

Jean Higgins gives her ability in sports to Barb Garnett.

Bob Hoff wills his dilapidated Model "A" to any junior needing transportation to the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Lloyd Huffman presents to future ranch owners one used mouth organ and a book of cowboy songs.

Ann Leister wills her cheerful nature to next years' class will writers.

Chester Lewis leaves his ability to practice track in #221 to John Culp.

Martha Mellert wills her job of collecting early morning absences slips to future track stars.

Gladys Medley gives to future commercial students her job as secretary to Mr. Fenn.

Betty Neufield wills the ability to wear two class rings at once to Bob High.

Loren Parker bestows a copy of "What Goes On In Movie Theaters" to anyone whose conscience bothers him.

Helen Perrin leaves her unchanging silence in classes to Joe Gibbs.

Dot Phillips very gladly throws her ability to sprain her ankle before every important dance to Mary Lou Lance.

Medina High School — Alma Mater Song

Words and Music by Howard Thompson

To green and white we toast today
And raises our voices high.
We'll honor thee and loyal be, and praise thee to the sky.
Let every son and daughter stand, united er'r for thee,
And praise our school through-out the land.
Here's to you, Medina High.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Elwood Pincombe wills a battered drum head to the future hide-beater, Helen Clark.

Ruth Plants bestows her meek voice upon Joan Hammerschmidt.

Bill Rapp wills one slightly used wave to James Schoenberger.

Virginia Raymont gives her giggles to Sally Foote.

Evelyn Rickard bequeaths her ability to get the car for school every day to Betty Gill.

Alice Satink wills her straight A's to the future football captain, Jim Gibbs.

Mary Ziegler leaves her love of cheering to the entire assembly.

Martin Schneider wills his cheerful smile to Ed Denman.

Virginia Shultz also wills her love to dancing to Lawrence Kulp.

Robert Shane wills one dimple, a wave, and his school-girl complexion to future girl thrillers.

Marjorie Sprinkle leaves her willingness to be helpful to the Junior-Senior Banquet committee.

Helen Szaniszlo bequeaths her success in pampering Mr. Claggett to his next years' secretary.

Joan Szaniszlo gives her long black hair to Virginia De Witt.

Helen Szekeres wills her snappy way of walking to John Clark.

Duane Todd gives the shorn portions of his summer hair cuts to Mr. Thompson.

Olive Tooker wills a lock of auburn hair to Alice Armitage and Helen Hallock.

Alberta Turek wills a flirty wink to Juanita Dyer.

George Welch wills his love of music to you.

Etta West leaves her clever arm jewelry to Mary Felton.

And we, Dene Hammerschmidt and Bud Fisher, will our batons and uniforms to anyone who will get them out of hock, practice at least one hour a day, laugh at black eyes and bruised bodies, and pay all dry cleaning bills.

In witness whereof we hereunto set our hand and seal, being of sound body and mind, on this day of our Lord, January sixth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.

An American tourist in Scotland took a great fancy to a handsome collie he saw, and offered to buy it. The owner asked some questions, and upon learning that it was the would-be purchaser's intention to take "Jock" to America, he refused to part with the dog.

Just then an English tourist came along, and he also made a bid for the collie, which, though less than the first offer, was accepted. The American was annoyed, and when the Englishman had departed, he said: "You told me you wouldn't sell your dog."

"Na, na," replied the canny Scot. "I said I couldna part wi' him. Jock'll be back in a day or two, never fear. But he couldna swim the Atlantic."

"How old are you?" inquired the visitor of Jim Schoenberger.

"That's a difficult question," answered Jim removing his specs and wiping them reflectively. "The last personal survey available shows my psychological age to be twelve, my mental age four, my anatomical age seven, and my physiological age six. I suppose, however, that you refer to my chronological age, which is sixteen. That is so old-fashioned that I seldom think of it any more."

As the celebrated soprano began to sing, little Johnnie became greatly exercised over the gesticulations of the orchestra conductor.
